Dear Hiring Manager,

I am interested in program and project leadership roles requiring disciplined planning, governance, risk/dependency management and end-to-end enterprise technology delivery. I direct technology portfolio and program delivery within a 54-person organization, aligning priorities, resources, vendors and dependencies across concurrent enterprise initiatives. My scope covers intake and prioritization, project plans, milestones, deliverables, estimation, architecture/integration, QA/UAT, release, deployment, adoption and production handover.

I bring substantial delivery scale from earlier roles as well: a 10+ technical team across 15+ enterprise/e-government platforms in Oman and a six-person team across 150+ major and mid-sized Keyframe projects, excluding small engagements. This gives me a practical approach to scope and schedule, resource planning, risks/issues/dependencies, change control, escalation and executive status reporting.

I would bring a structured, outcome-focused approach: clear ownership, strong stakeholder alignment, disciplined governance, practical technical judgment and attention to what is required for successful implementation and sustainable operation.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how this experience could support your organization's priorities and the outcomes expected from the role.

Sincerely,
Mahmoud Salama
